

ADIRONDACK BOOKS

by JAY O'HERN Available Here

William J. "Jay" O'Hern is one of the most prolific regional authors active today. He has published a dozen books since 1997 — half of them since 2012 — and has more in the wings through 2020. O'Hern deals with mostly little-known old-time guides, remote lumber camps, logging with Linn tractors, sporting adventures, recipe-story books, along with a healthy dose of the iconic hermit Noah John Rondeau.

MEET THE AUTHOR

JAY O'HERN

“Upcoming Appearance”

William J. “Jay” O’Hern is one of the most prolific regional authors active today. He has published a dozen books since 1997—half of them since 2012—and has more in the wings through 2020. O’Hern deals with mostly little-known old-time guides, remote lumber camps, logging with Linn tractors, sporting adventures, recipe-story books, along with a healthy dose of the iconic hermit Noah John Rondeau.

